

clarity
Point coaching
personal assessment report

John Doe
03/18/13

objectives

Clarity: Clearness as to perception or understanding; clearness of thought.

"If you change the way you look at things, the things you look at change."

The lens represents the context through which you currently see your world. This context is made of perspectives and beliefs that come from your life experiences and the things you have learned along the way. These ideas have become subconscious programs (or habits of thinking) that dictate how you respond to and experience your life.

Some of your thought processes you may be aware of, but others are happening subconsciously. As long as you are unaware of them, you can't change the things that aren't working in your life. Our goal is to help you become aware of your thoughts so you can decide if things need to be changed.

The question we suggest you ask yourself is...

Is the way I am choosing to see and experience my life working for me?

Or would I like to see my life with more clarity, confidence and love, and see if it works better?

The lens (your thought processes) may skew the way you see yourself, your life and other people. It may be causing you to create unnecessary drama. It may be causing you to feel afraid when there is really nothing to be afraid of. It may be effecting the way you handle problems and interact with other people.

Would you like to see those thought processes (both conscious and subconscious) on paper?

Would you like to see what life might look like, without fear skewing your perspective?

Would you like to see life with a clear lens?

You are about to.

Remember the measurements in your assessment are not about being wrong, bad or broken. We all have skewed thought processes and they are a perfect part of your journey. Becoming aware of them will give you the chance to decide who you want to be in the future.

how it works

Are you ready to take a look at some of your thought processes and the places where fear may be skewing the way you are experiencing your life?

These arrows shows your results and the degree to which fear is skewing your thought processes.

12 - Is my value affected by my mistakes?

I may be afraid that my value is determined by my mistakes and failures.

Fear Statement

My past mistakes were a location on my journey, they are not who I am.

Clarity Point Statement

Our program is designed to help you become aware of and understand who you are and how you think. We are not here to fix you. You are perfect just the way you are. We are here to help you understand how your thoughts are in the way of creating the life you want.

This is a program designed to empower you and facilitate your discovering more about yourself. It is about gaining confidence and eliminating fear. It's about gaining clarity in your perceptions of yourself, other people and the world around you.

You have ranked 36 words or phrases which make up the Hartman Value Profile. From these rankings our system can give you some interesting insights into how you think.

In understanding how you think, you will learn to be accurate and clear in your perceptions of your experiences, giving you a strong foundation from which to create success in relationships and your career.

The following pages graphically illustrate some of your subconscious thought processes. The blue arrow shows where your subconscious thought processes sometimes are, but that does not mean you listen to it and behave that way. It will give you the chance to ask some questions though.

Do I ever let this thought drive my behavior?
Does it create good results when I do?
How could I override this thought and choose something better?

Clarity about other people (1 – 6)

1 – Do I see other people accurately?

A baby

I may choose to experience fear of other people. I may have difficulty trusting or feeling safe with people. I might be cautious or hold back.

I see other people accurately and I can put myself in their shoes. I feel safe around people and focus on their infinite worth and the ways we are the same.

2 – Do I see other people and their property, performance and appearance accurately?

With this ring

I may choose to experience fear around seeing value in other people's PPA. It's safer not to value it. I may feel better than them.

I see other people and their PPA accurately. I see other people as the same as me regardless of their PPA.
What does THEIR PPA say about me?

I may choose to experience fear that other people are more valuable than me because of their PPA. I may feel less than them.

3 – Do I see other people and their beliefs accurately?

A devoted scientist

I may choose to experience fear around seeing value in other people's beliefs. It's safer not to care what they think or believe.

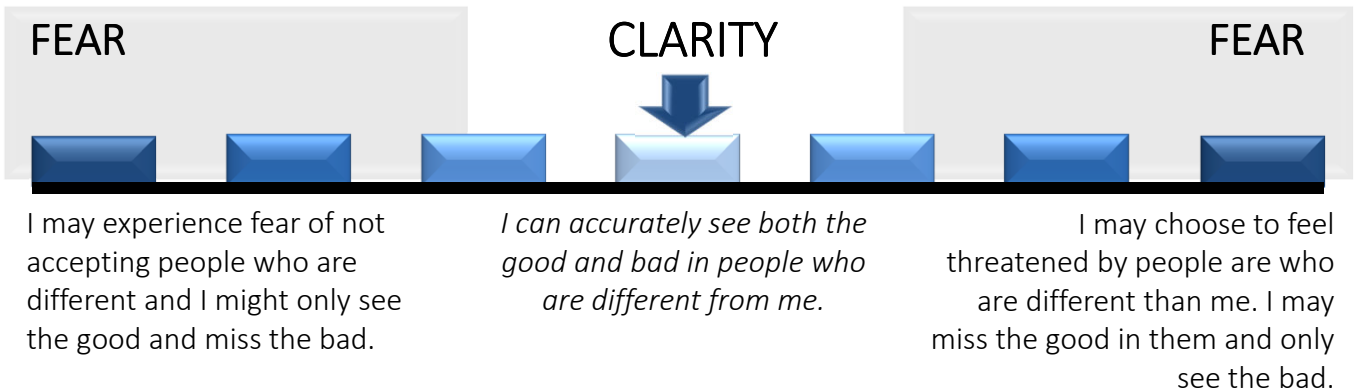

I accurately see and appreciate other people, their ideas and beliefs without any fear about me.

I may care too much about a person's beliefs. I may fear that their ideas and beliefs contribute to their value.

Clarity about other people (1 – 6)

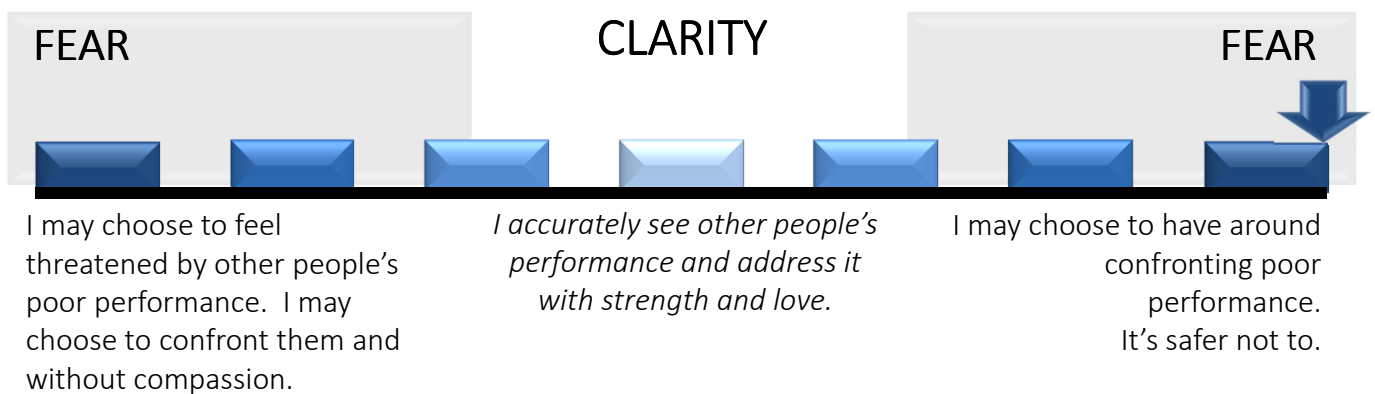

4 – Do I see people who are different accurately?

Madman

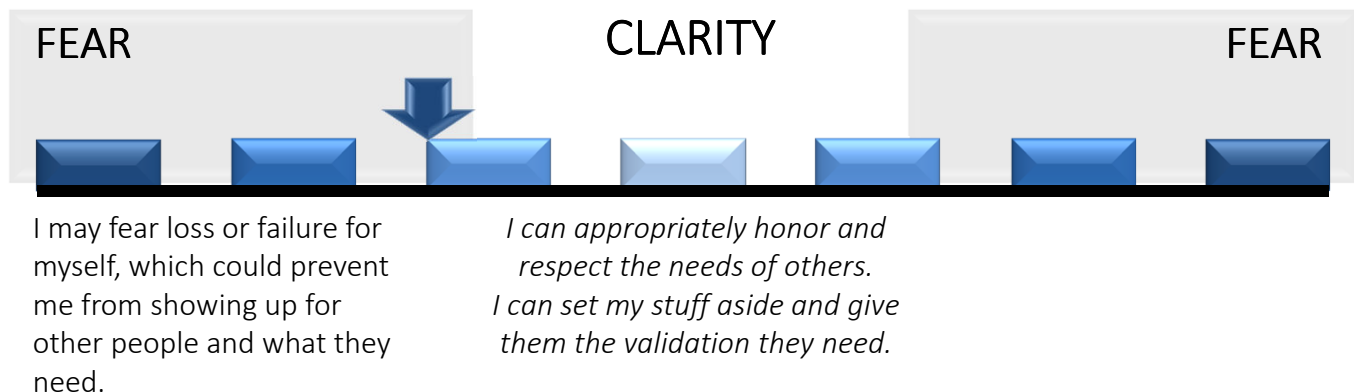

5 – Do I hold others accountable for their behavior?

Slavery

6 – Do I honor the needs of others?

Torturing a person

Clarity about myself (7 – 12)

7 – Do I see my infinite and absolute value accurately?

I enjoy being myself

I may choose to experience fear that I'm not good enough.

I know my worth is absolute and infinite.

Can any situation affect my absolute value?

8 – Do I see myself and value my property, performance and appearance accurately?

My work brings out the best in me

I may choose to experience fear that my property, performance and appearance don't measure up.

I know that my value is more than my property, performance and appearance. I feel peace about who I am and what I do.

I may choose to experience fear that my value depends on my property, performance and appearance. I have to keep them up to have value.

9 – Do I feel comfortable in my skin?

I feel at home in the world

I may choose to experience fear around sharing my ideas and who I am. I may feel it is safer not to.

I accurately see the value of my ideas and when it is appropriate to share them.

I may choose to experience fear that I'm not of value unless I share my ideas and who I am. I may talk too much because I need the validation.

Clarity about myself (7 – 12)

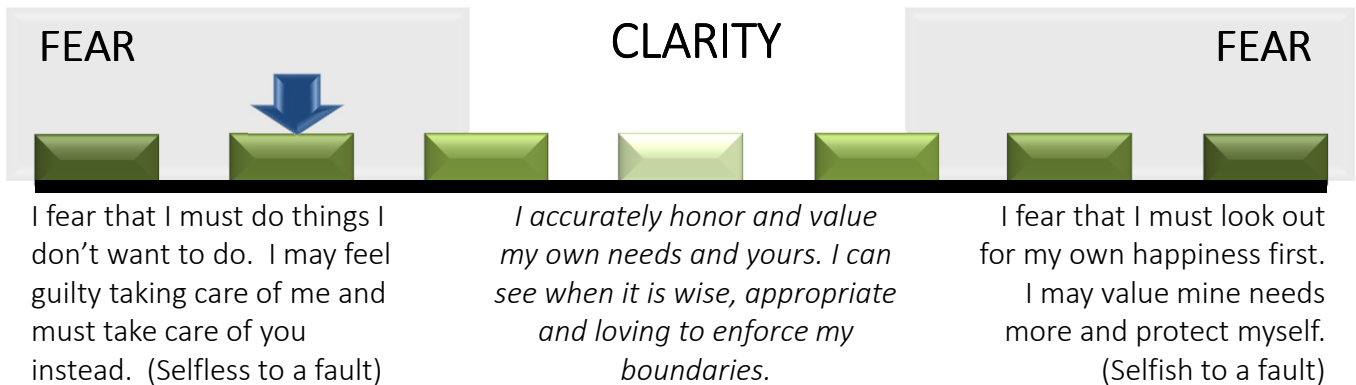

10 – Do I deal with what bothers me?

The lack of meaning in the universe disturbs me

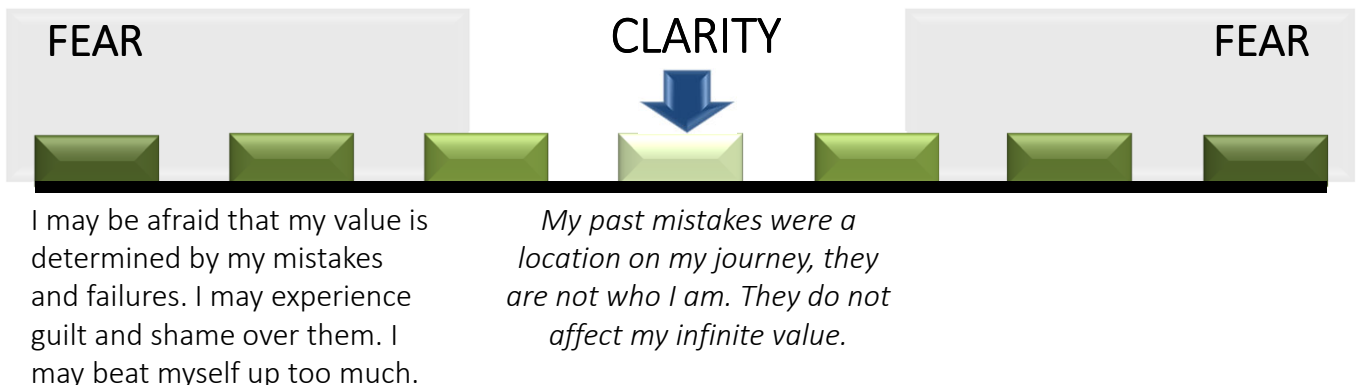

11 – Do I enforce my boundaries?

My work makes me unhappy

12 – Do I let mistakes affect my value?

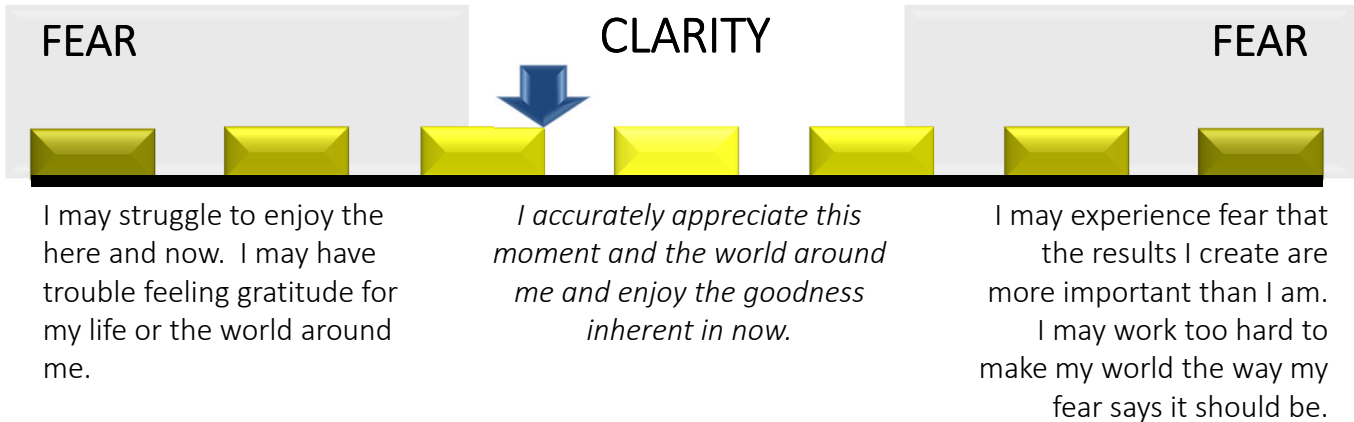

I curse the day I was born

Clarity about tasks and things (13 – 18)

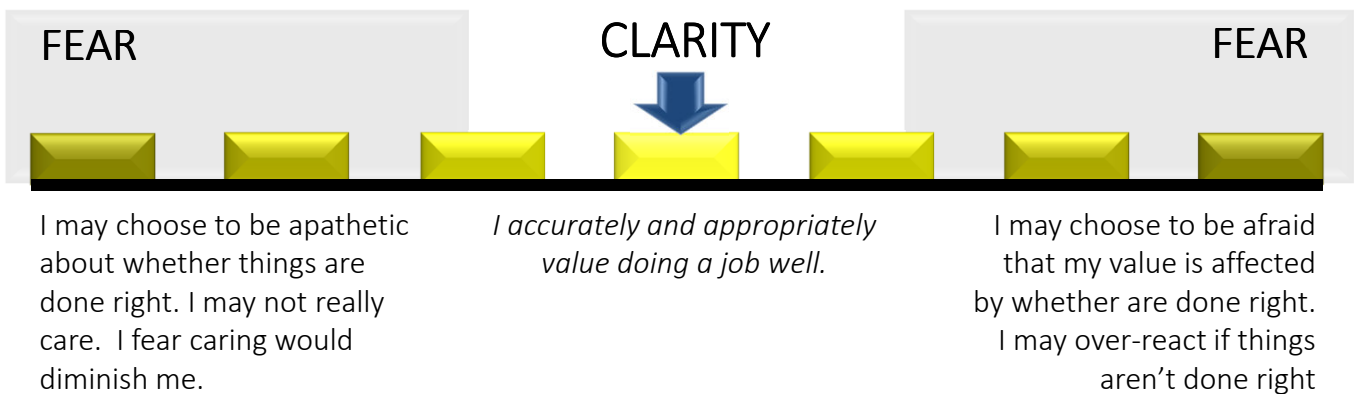

13 – Do I live in trust and joy in this moment?

I love my work

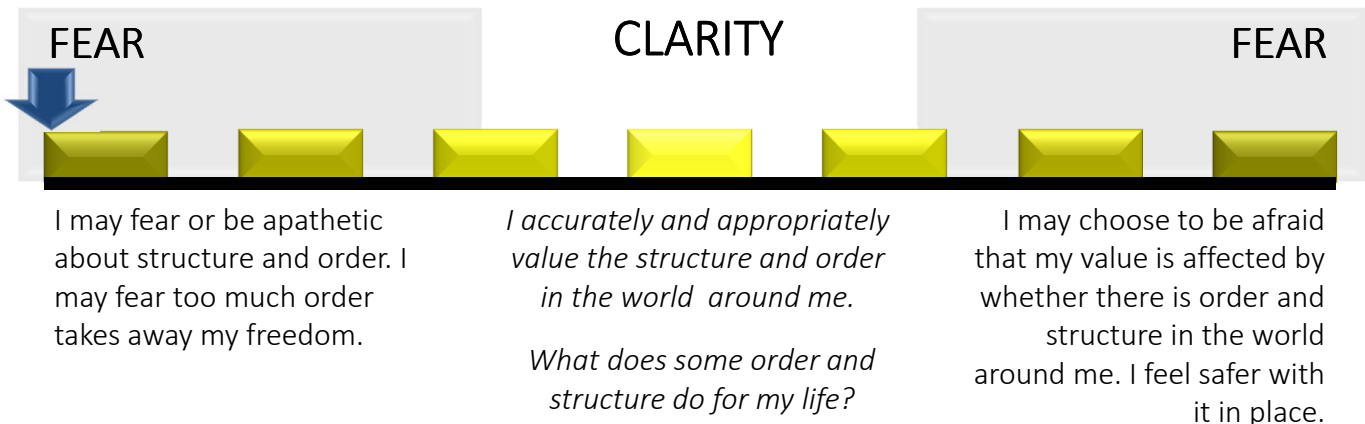

14 – Do I accurately value a job well done?

A good meal

15 – Do I value structure and order?

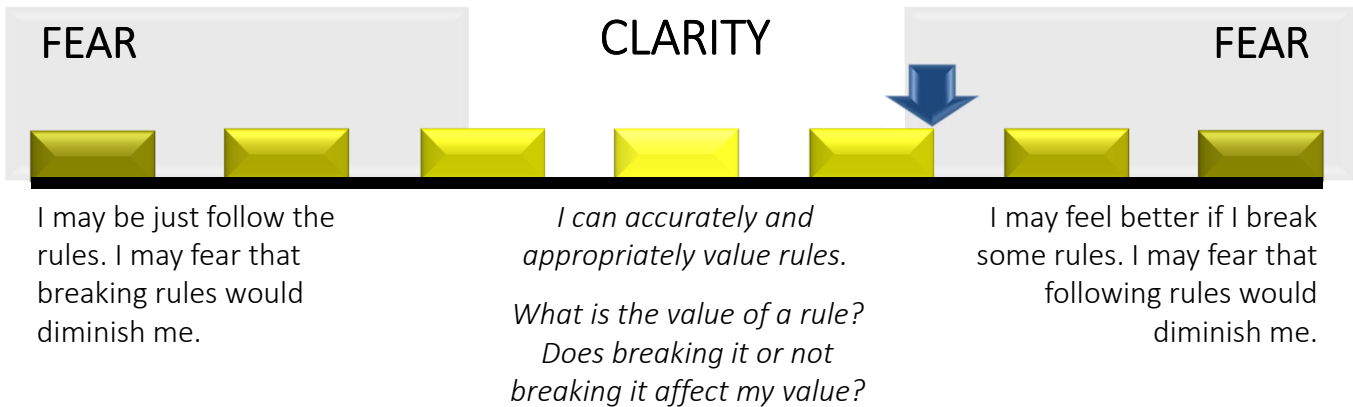

An assembly line

Clarity about tasks and things (13 – 18)

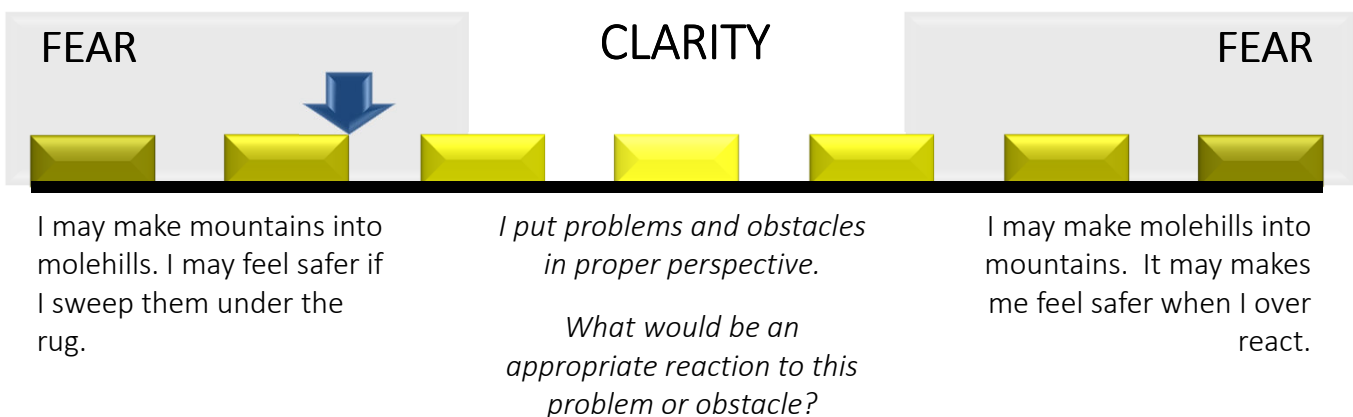

16 – Do I accurately value rules?

A fine

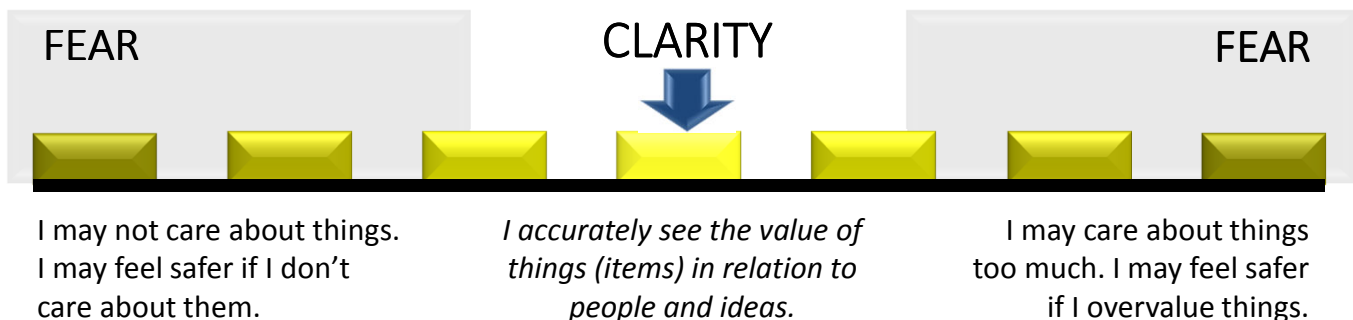

17 – Do I make mountains or molehills?

A rubbish heap

18 – Do I value things appropriately?

Poison a city's water

Clarity about life (19 – 24)

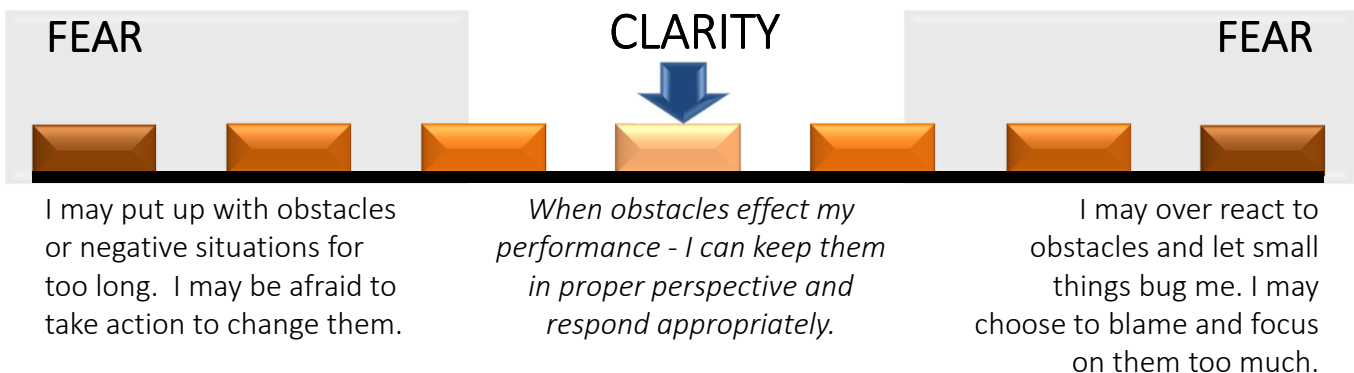

22 – Do I set realistic expectations?

No matter how hard I work
I'm always frustrated

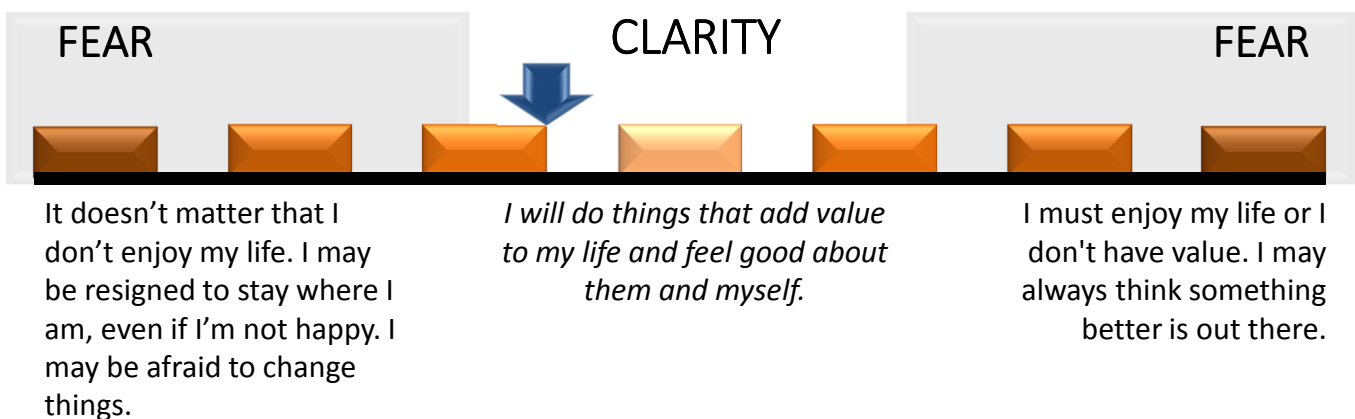

23 – Do I react appropriately to obstacles?

Working conditions are poor and ruin my work

24 – Do I enjoy my life?

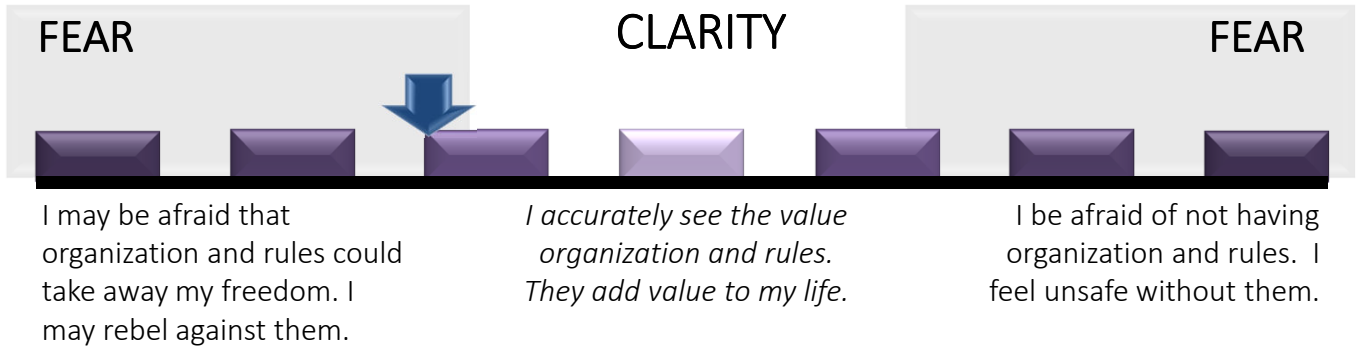

I hate my work

Clarity about systems (25 – 30)

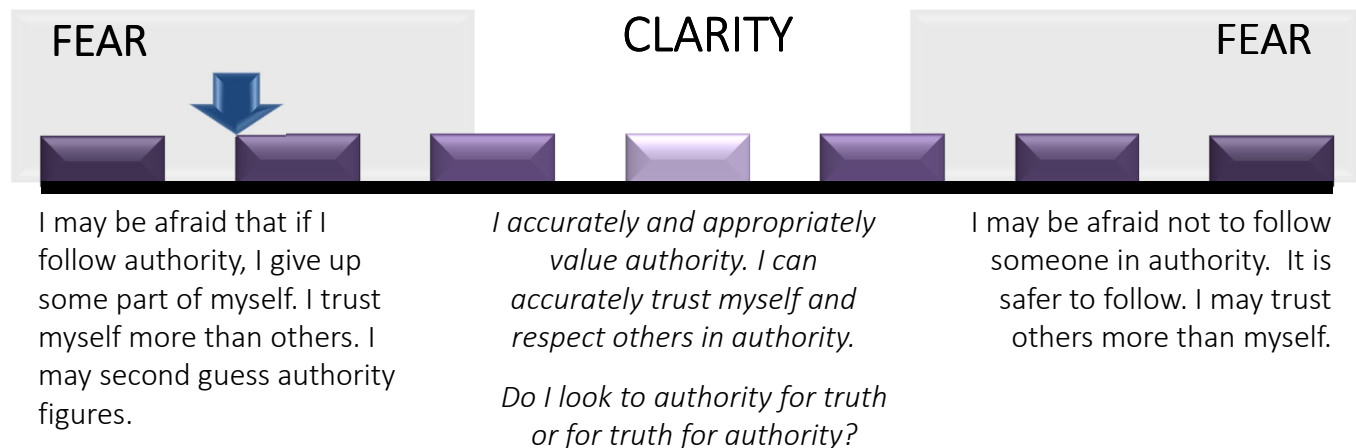

25 – Do I value organization and rules?

Mathematical genius

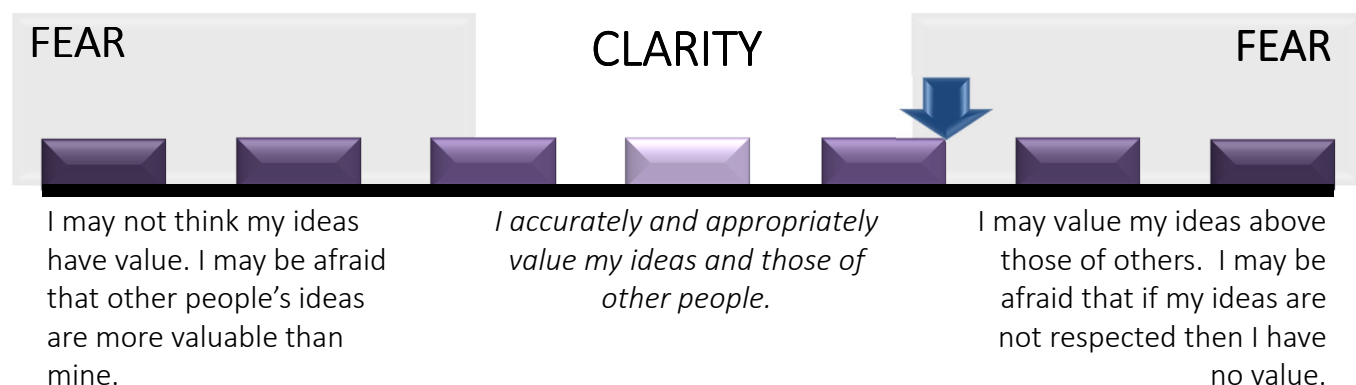

26 – Do I value authority?

Uniform

27 – Do I have a need to be right?

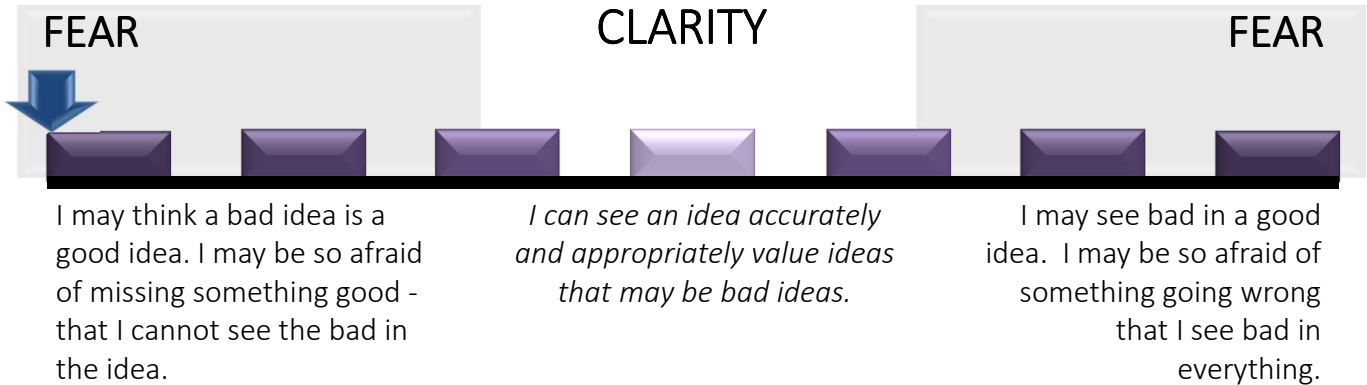

A technical improvement

Clarity about systems (25 – 30)

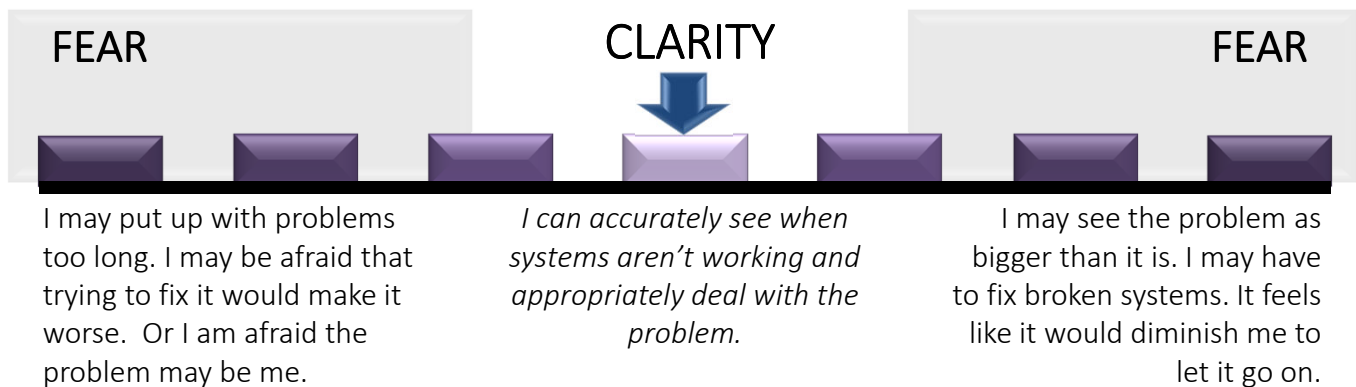

28 – Do I see risks accurately ?

Nonsense

29 – Do I appropriately respond to system problems?

A short circuit

30 – Do I enforce rules and ideas ?

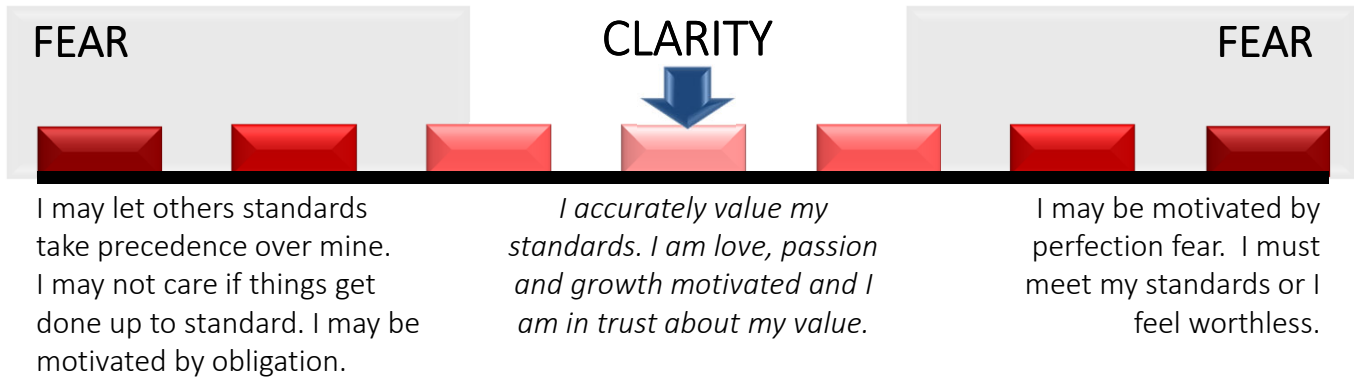

Burning heretic at the stake

Clarity on motivation (31 – 36)

31 – Do I do things for the right reasons?

I love the beauty of the world

I may let others standards take precedence over mine. I may not care if things get done up to standard. I may be motivated by obligation.

I accurately value my standards. I am love, passion and growth motivated and I am in trust about my value.

I may be motivated by perfection fear. I must meet my standards or I feel worthless.

32 – Do I fear failure or success?

My work adds to the beauty and harmony of the world

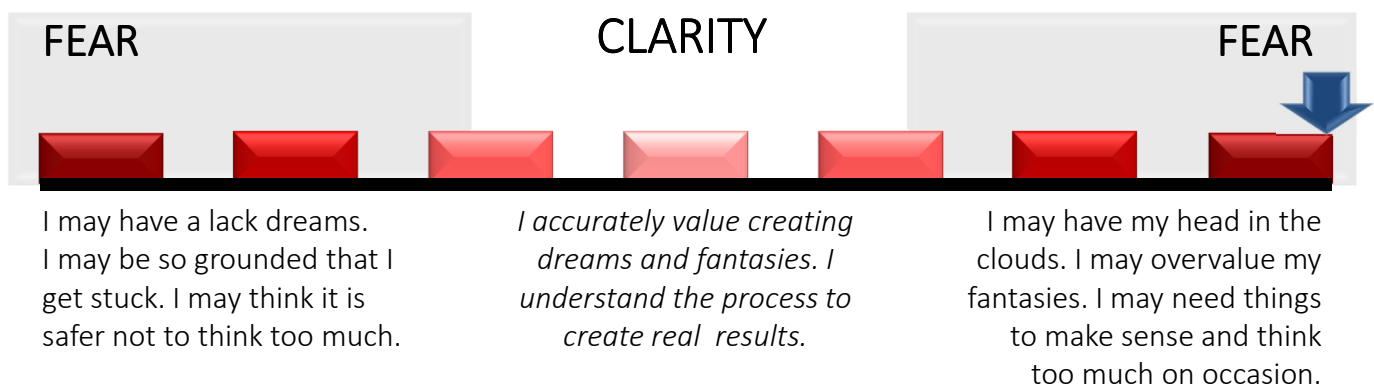

I may be shooting low. I may have a fear of success, which is a fear of the responsibilities and commitments that come with shooting high.

I am motivated to achieve and create without fear about the outcome. I am motivated by a love for life, myself and others.

Whatever I do must be perfect or I am afraid that I'm not good enough. I may have a fear of failure that gets in the way of my love and happiness.

33 – Do I dream too big or not enough?

The universe is a remarkably harmonious place

I may have a lack dreams. I may be so grounded that I get stuck. I may think it is safer not to think too much.

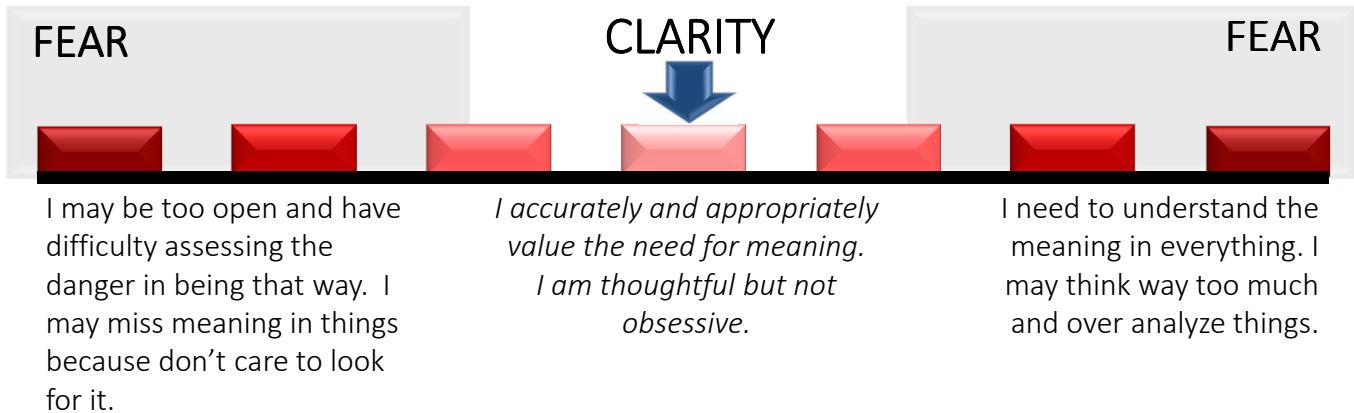

I accurately value creating dreams and fantasies. I understand the process to create real results.

I may have my head in the clouds. I may overvalue my fantasies. I may need things to make sense and think too much on occasion.

Clarity on motivation (31 – 36)

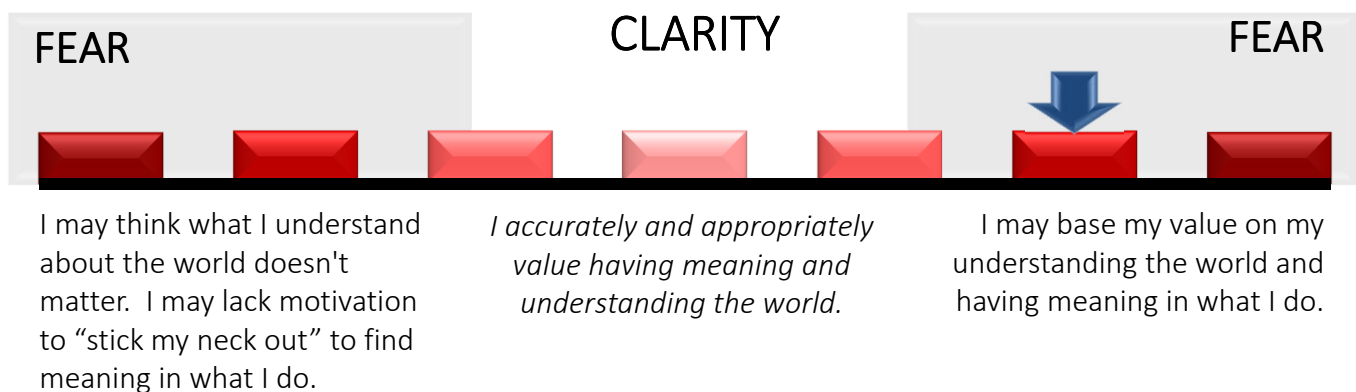

34– Do I think too much or not enough?

The world makes little sense to me

35 – Do I need meaning in what I do?

My work contributes nothing to the world

36– Do I care about my standards and reaching them?

My life is messing up the world

